Response to Reply Brief filed 11/21/2007:

Appellants' Reply Brief filed 11/21/2007 is noted and repeats arguments and reasoning set forth in the Appeal Brief filed 8/17/2007. Specifically, Appellants resubmit that the Examiner has erred in determining the scope and content of the prior art. The Examiner addressed this issue in the Examiner's Answer mailed 10/2/2007 (see especially page 8). For example, Appellants argue that Band (1989) would have taught one of ordinary skill in the art that (-)-gossypol "was so unselective and so toxic as to be unsafe in the treatment of cancer in humans" (Reply Brief, page 4). However, as noted in the Examiner's Answer at page 8, Band (1986) discloses that oral doses of gossypol are used as an effective male oral contraceptive with minimal side effects. Further, Band (1989) clearly states at page 276, right column that the lack of any reported in vivo side effects attributable to such [general antiproliferative] activity is suprising". Accordingly, the totality of the prior art clearly suggests that (-)-gossypol can be safely administered to human patients.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to James D. Anderson whose telephone number is 571-272-9038. The examiner can normally be reached on MON-FRI 9:00 am - 5:00 pm EST.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Ardin Marschel can be reached on 571-272-0718. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
